'Twas The White Before Christmas

Santa's annual visit to Patchogue has been scheduled for Saturday, November 28th, at 7 P.M. and weather forecasts are that his visit will be accompanied by a gentle snowfall. This is the word from the office of the Merchants Division of the Patchogue Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the parade along with the Village Recreation Department. The parade, which has become a traditional event in Patchogue, will see Santa arrive in his traditional mode of transportation, the sleigh, and Girl Scouts will be on hand to pass out candy gifts to the children along the line of march. The parade is scheduled to begin at West Avenue and proceed east to Rose Avenue. Letter carriers will collect letters to Santa.

"Just a normal childhood," he said, settling into the soft swivel chair, working his pipe.

"I remember those years clearly," he said. "The memory is really very sharp." We had great beaches . . . The fishing was great. All day out in the sun. I never wanted to come in. We'd hunt and fish and trap and never go home. We'd sail boats up the Patchogue River, all along the
